UPDATE FOR SHAREHOLDERS

Occupational & Medical Innovations Ltd (OMI) has been informed by its Patent Attorneys in the USA that it has been granted American Patents for its Safety Scalpel and Needle Free Access Valve (Valve) by the United States Patent and Trademark Office.

In addition to the granting of the US Patents, the OMI Safety Scalpel has also been granted a South African Patent by the Companies and Intellectual Property Registration Office in Pretoria.

OMI has also applied for Patents in, Brazil, Canada, China, Europe, India and Japan for both its Safety Scalpel and Valve.

In the meantime, OMI's unique technology is protected by the international patent applications it has filed under the Patent Cooperation Treaty (PCT). The PCT provides OMI with a 'priority date, which protects the invention from any subsequent patent applications.

Australian Patents for both the Safety Scalpel and Valve have previously been granted. However, the granting of the American and South African Patents represents a significant step forward in OMI's plan to market its products worldwide.

The granting of the American and South African Patents marks the beginning of the National Phase, where Patents are granted in the relevant designated countries.
